The Organic Store, Offaly

Owner of The Organic Store, Jonathan Haslam, knows all about the advantages of going organic. Raised on Mossfield Organic Farm, a 240 acre organic farm between Birr and the Slieve Blooms, his family transformed their business when they went organic. Now well known for the quality of their produce, they are also the makers of an award-winning organic cheese. Mossfield Farm's produce can be found at Jonathan's gem of a store in Birr which stocks a wide range of carefully sourced organic produce, including a good selection of delicious fruit and vegetables, imported or sourced from the farm and other local farms. The deli owner has even taken to growing produce himself: "I already grow my own spuds, and I'm learning how to grow lettuces and beetroot."

Visitors will find a good range of cheeses from Irish farmhouse cheeses such as St Tola to continental cheeses; Glenisk dairy products; Kelly's yoghurts and a range of organic teas, coffees, cereals, nuts, seeds and cereals. The store stocks all of Mossfield's Farm's products including their organic buttermilk, organic cream and of course, their cheeses, a range of rich, nutty goudas.
